COLORED SABBATH SCHOOL REUNION.

The colored Sabbath Schools in this vicinity held a reunion last week in the Baptist Church, Kirkwood, Mr. Wm. Payne, of Bridgeport, presiding; John H. Jackson, Secretary.

The schools represented were the A. M. E. Church and Simpson Chapel Schools, of Wheeling, and the Baptist Church, of Bridgeport.

Mr. Green, of the A. M. E. Church, and Robert Strange, of Simpson Chapel, made reports of the condition of their respective schools, after which vocal exercises were conducted by Capt. Davis, of Bridgeport.

Her Johnson, of the A. M. E. Church, heard the school recite according to the International Leaf, and Mr. Dwyer, of Bridgeport, E. M. Rolla, Frank Lee and John H. Jackson, of Wheeling, delivered brief addresses.

The following resolutions were adopted: Whereas, It has pleased an All Wise Providence to permit us to convene once more; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is our object to teach morality to our children, and the children of our neighbors.

Resolved, That the officers of this Union who do not use their influence and labor to perpetuate the same shall be declared ineligible to office.

Resolved, That our next Reunion be held at Simpson Chapel on the fourth Sabbath in December.

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be rendered to Captain Davis for services rendered to the Union.

PROBABLY FATAL ENCOUNTER--On Sunday morning Joseph McKim, Jr., and a young man named Wate, near Mt. Pleasant, became involved in a quarrel which will probably prove fatal to the latter. McKim is a resident of Martin's Ferry, and Wate is a Virginian, who recently came to this vicinity. Both parties have been waiting on the same lady, and Wate, probably thinking McKim a dangerous rival, did not attempt to conceal his dislike for him. On the morning mentioned McKim was sitting by the roadside chatting with some friends, when Wate approached him and told him he ever again called upon the young lady in question he would "send him to hell," or words to that effect. High words by both followed, and the parties finally came to blows. Wate was badly beaten, and was insensible when picked up, and a surgeon was immediately called and rendered all the assistance in his power, but gave it his opinion that he did not think it possible for the injured man to survive many hours.

Yesterday McKim was arrested and taken before Judge Eagleson, of Martin's Ferry, who admitted him to bail in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance to answer.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING--Yesterday afternoon three small boys met with a narrow escape from drowning in the river near Benson's Ferry Landing, some distance below this city. The little fellows were in a skiff, and endeavored to hold on to the ferry boat and be towed across the river. When about midway in the stream the skiff capsize, and the boys were thrown into the river. The boat was immediately stopped, the officers and passengers rushed to the rescue, and two of the boys were taken on the boat. A gentleman in a skiff caught the third boy, but before the little unfortunate was almost drowned.

THE MANLY ART--Yesterday afternoon two men named Cullen and Confrey, west down on the river bank near the Superior Machine Works in North Wheeling, to indulge in the manly art of self defense. Several blows had been struck, and they were hard at it, when Officer Bogard appeared upon the scene. The contestants immediately took to their heels, with the officer after them. Drawing his revolver, Bogard fired at Cullen, and that person considered it expedient to surrender. He was taken into custody and marched to the lockup, and will probably be examined at the police court this morning.

Why is it?--Some time since the Board of Commissioners for Ohio county nominated two gentlemen to make the State assessment for the year 1875, Mr. Jacob Bickel for the city, and Mr. Perc Whitman for the county. Their names were forwarded several months ago to the State Auditor for confirmation, since which time nothing has been heard from that official on the subject. Can it be that in the meanings incident to a journey to the permanent seat the papers have been worn out or lost?

Wool--Yesterday Col. H. K. List took in about eleven thousand pounds of wool, bought from Joseph Hupp of this county. This purchase embraced three years' clips and about closes up the wool crop in this region. During the present season Mr. List has purchased some six hundred thousand pounds of wool at an average price of fifty cents per pound, and has therefore disbursed in this section of country something like three hundred thousand dollars in cash.

A RETURN GAME--At a meeting of the Standard base ball club last evening it was decided to challenge the Washington club to play a return game, the game to be played on the Island grounds, on Saturday next. The Standards are not satisfied with the result of the game played at Little Washington on Saturday last, and are anxious to recover the laurels lost upon that day.

LOUISVILLE, October 26--River still stationary with 3 feet in the canal. Weather clear and pleasant. No arrivals or departures, except packets.

Cairo, October 26--Arrived--R. W. Dwyer, Memphis. Departed--Jas. Kinney, Vicksburg; Dugan, Cincinnati. River 4 feet 11 inches and falling. Weather clear and warm.

WHEELING ITEMS--A Building and Loan Association was organized on Tuesday the 20th inst., and our friend Everett was elected President. Outside of politics Thomas is a good man.

William Patton, one of the oldest citizens of Brooke county, was buried on Sunday last. He was 90 years of age.

WELLBURG ITEMS--A Building and Loan Association was organized on Tuesday the 20th inst., and our friend Everett was elected President. Outside of politics Thomas is a good man.

William Patton, one of the oldest citizens of Brooke county, was buried on Sunday last. He was 90 years of age.

SMILING--The local of the Wheeling Intelligencer at a jug of grape juice. He is in his element, and the element goes into him--Martinsburg Independent.

Only "for the stomach's sake," me gentle gondolier.

OVER THE RIVER--Mr. John Crawford, the Bridgeport grocer, was the successful candidate for the Masonic pin at the Festival in Martin's Ferry on Saturday evening. There were two candidates: Mr. Crawford received 129, and Mr. Frank Wright, of Martin's Ferry, 129 votes. John is about as happy as a sixpenny.

Chicken thieves are bothering James Easton, in Bridgeport. On Sunday night he missed several hens. It was a low deed.

The Masonic Festival at Martin's Ferry, held on Friday and Saturday evenings, netted about $300.

We understand that James Alexander, Esq., yesterday swore out warrants for the arrest of three men for stealing apples from his orchard, in the vicinity of Kirkwood. As the parties are well known, we shall wait for further developments before giving their names to the public. Mr. Alexander is much annoyed by fruit pilferers, and feels compelled to have the law enforced in order to protect himself.

Workers are still engaged on the back river bridge. We notice that the work of the bridge is being strengthened by the addition of iron bars and girders. From present appearances, winter will be far advanced before the completion of the repairs.

John H. Wheeler, the man who stole a mare from Mr. Samuel Talbot, at Captains, was brought down to Bridgeport on the 11 o'clock train yesterday morning. He was taken to St. Clairsville, and lodged in jail. To Mr. John Hill, proprietor of the Belmont House, Bridgeport, Mr. Talbot is indebted for the recovery of his mare and the capture of the thief, instead of "Mr. Hill, of Martin's Ferry," as stated by us yesterday morning. The Pittsburgh Commercial contains the following account of Wheeler's capture:

A dispatch was received at the Mayor's office Saturday from Mr. T. D. Talbot, of Mingo Junction, Ohio, stating that a valuable horse had been stolen from him a few days ago, by a thief who, it was supposed, had come to Pittsburgh. Detective Long immediately informed the Allegheny officials, and a search was instituted through the city. Saturday morning Officer Geary Smith noticed an individual trying to dispose of a horse near Sandusky street, and kept an eye on his movements. The fellow not being able to make a sale of the animal, he took care of in Charles' livery stable, on Sandusky street, and deposited a large revolver with the proprietors, to pay for its attention. All this time Officer Smith had the individual in view, and followed him to Hoffman's saloon, on the corner of Federal and Church avenues, where he was taken into custody, as the suspected horse thief. He offered no resistance, but strongly protested his innocence, as the horse he sold was his own. The animal is a beautiful grey mare, and is a pacer. The alleged thief was looked up to await the arrival of Mr. Talbot.

Mr. Talbot, who, since the above was written, has arrived in the city, has identified the stolen horse as his property. The thief, John H. Wheeler, by name, is a young man who resided in the vicinity of Mr. T.'s residence until a short time ago.

WASHINGTON, PA--While many of our neighboring towns can boast of improvements, we know of none having greater cause for congratulation in the way of solid, costly and permanent improvements than the borough of Washington, Pa. The Washington and Jefferson College building is being vastly enlarged and handsomely improved, and when completed will be as neat and tasty as any institution of learning in the country. The improvements will cost about $75,000.

The Methodist brethren have commenced the erection of a new Church edifice which promises to be one of the most commodious and elegant in the town.

In every section of the town permanent improvements are being made in the way of tearing down old and erecting new buildings, grading streets, &c.

Smith's iron front building and Caldwell's new building are not equalled by anything in Wheeling, while the Fulton House has been renovated, remodeled, and a finer arranged hotel cannot be found anywhere. We congratulate our Washington friends upon this evidence of prosperity.

PERSONAL--Rev. David Irwin, of the Valley of Virginia, is in the city.

T. R. Laird, Esq., is confined to his residence on the Island by illness.

Died--At the residence of Mr. Wiesel, Esq., Cumberland, Maryland, Friday the 18th inst., Mary Henrietta, infant daughter of the late Dr. Henry Wiesel, aged six months and 21 days. A little over two years ago--25th September, 1872--Dr. Henry Wiesel, of Wheeling, married Miss Bessie, of this city. Within about a year he died and was followed shortly afterwards by his widow, who left the subject of this notice. Truly the hand of Death has been laid heavily upon this family, all of whom are now gone--Charlotte Courier.

Capt. J. T. Russell, of the steamer Skillinger, and G. L. Kinney, of the Mallie Ragon, are stopping at the St. James Hotel.

Col. T. S. Spates, of Clarksburg, Hon. A. I. Boreman, of Parkersburg, and H. S. White, Esq., of Marshall county, are stopping at the McFarlane House.

Billy Brown, conductor on the Hempfield R. R., is lying dangerously ill at his residence on 12th street.

Grand Master Rentch, the delegates from Kanawha, and many other members of the Grand Lodge of Old Fellows, are stopping at the Stamm House.

POLICE COURT--Four cases were examined and disposed of at the police court yesterday morning, as follows:

Barney Reddy and S. P. Davidson were fined $5 and costs each for disorderly conduct.

Rebecca J. Blanchard was committed to jail for thirty days for prostitution.

Thomas Howley, for selling liquor on Sunday, was fined $20 and costs.

Circuit Court--The Circuit Court met yesterday morning. The office judgment docket was called, and pleas entered in some of the causes, judgment in others, and others continued. Court then adjourned to this morning at 9 o'clock.

SOME of our business men can't understand why they are doing so little business at this season. It is easily accounted for; they don't advertise.

THE Masonic Grand Lodge and the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias of this State will meet in this city in November.

The frost came without leave, but took many leaves with him. The trees are drooping for a winter's sleep.

THE regular monthly meeting of the Board of Commissioners will be held on Monday morning next.

BEHOLD! TRUTH--One of the old landmarks of Water street has passed away. Grandmother Roder, who, day after day, hand in hand with one of her grandchildren--youth and old age most beautifully associated--peacefully passed from time to eternity. It will be long before we shall forget the crippled old woman, cane in hand, leading her little grandchild, as was her daily custom--the veriest living personification of the cradle and the grave. May the grass grow green and the flowers bloom brightly over the grave of our old friend. She was buried at 2 o'clock yesterday in the German Cemetery.

The funeral of Mr. Shep. McMechen took place yesterday at 3 P. M. Mr. McMechen was well-known on this side of the river, and his death is deeply felt by many sorrowing friends. As we have no doubt his decease and funeral will be written more in extenso by others, we will say but little, although an intimate acquaintance with the deceased would add to the force of our feeling a tribute to the memory of an noble a gentleman as ever lived in either Virginia old or Virginia new.

The Clipper Base Ball Club of this place, have organized a gymnasium in a room in Sheets' block. The members of the club, we believe, are only those belonging to the organization. This is a step in the right direction; a thing of this kind is certainly an institution that should be patronized liberally, and a half dozen of them here would be of great value and benefit to the young men of our city.

All the churches were well attended Sunday, without exception. In the Disciples' Church the services were conducted in the evening by a Mr. Danne, a young man from Bethany College, he taking the place of Mr. Spencer that day.

All our business men are on the qui vive for making large sales, especially those engaged in the dry goods business. Don't go out of town to buy your goods.

The Market Boy, which was advertised to leave our city just night for Wheeling, failed to do so on account of something being wrong with the engine. A great number of our citizens purchased tickets to see Rip Van Winkle on the understanding that the Market Boy was to run, and were thereby badly disappointed. However, a number of them hired buggies to go.

A good many of our nice people intended going to the entertainment given by the Old-Time Minstrels, last night.

It is generally understood by the reading people of this city, that the Register's local has eaten one entire copy of Webster's dictionary, only partially digested.

South Bellairs is looking up, as the business is improving down that way. The streets are being cleaned up, refuse water being drained off, and taking all in the citizens down there have more go ahead than many up town people have, in some respects.

There is an improvement on Water street, and a new building on the appearance of the west side of that street. The two lower rooms, we think, will be used for business purposes.

Business at the police department Sunday and Monday were unusually brisk. The following arrests were made and fines imposed: Michael Dougherty, for an old Irish trick, was fined $3 and costs. Daniel Ulrich, on account of drunkenness, was arrested and paid into the City Treasury $1 and costs. Wm. Haselt, drunk, was fined $2 and costs, and Mrs. Candelaria Duffin and her husband were both arrested; she for being intoxicated, and he for selling whiskey on the Sabbath day was fined $5 and costs. This is, we believe, the biggest business done in that department for some weeks past.

We had the pleasure of seeing our old friend Bral Mahan in town yesterday. He is a partner at present in business with John F. McDermott, formerly of the Intelligencer. Bral is lively and is still able to crack jokes as well and hard as any of them.

At the meeting of the Committee on Baquet, held last night, it was resolved to have the banquet of the Grand Lodge of Old Fellows of West Virginia, at the McFarlane House, at 9 o'clock to-morrow night. Users have been appointed to show those who have tickets to seats, and see that all are comfortable.

NOVELTY THEATRE--Another large audience witnessed the best performance ever given in Washington Hall last night. To-night is another change of bill, and all should go and see it. The prices are so low that all can afford it.

A FAW RATS--A German shoemaker on Main street recently caught fourteen rats in one trap. The trap is a dome trap, with a wire drop, and is only about a foot square.

The busy bees, having improved now for the winter season.

The great sale of Books, at 26 Twelfth street, will be closed out at private sale, at auction prices. Some of the best works are still on hand and will be sold at about half price for the next few days.

The latest style of Button Shoes, which are now so universally worn by the ladies, can be seen at L. V. Blond's Shoe Store, No. 1135 Main street.

The United States Building Association meets to-night to elect a Board of Directors. All members should be present.

We believe we are right in stating that to appreciate good goods at low figures we advise our lady readers to go to L. V. Blond's Shoe Store, No. 1135 Main street.

L. V. BLOND keeps the finest stock and greatest variety of Infant's, Misses' and Children's Shoes than any other house in the city. Our lady readers will make a note of this and govern themselves accordingly.

A CARD--To my patrons, friends, and generous public of the city of Wheeling: Circumstances beyond my control caused a suspension of my business for a few days. Thanks to a kind Providence and the generous support of my friends in and out of Wheeling, I have been enabled to surmount the bitter persecution of my enemies. Asking patronage commensurate with the gross persecution perpetrated upon me, I will continue to sell my large stock of goods at prices to please my customers. J. W. FAIRBANK.

Iron City College.

We clip the following from the Pittsburgh Gazette of October 17th:

This old established and popular business College, at which considerably over one thousand of the active business men of Pittsburgh have received their business education, continues year by year to present new attractions. Its course of study and business training, long recognized as the most thorough and complete of any in existence, has recently been so developed and perfected as to place it beyond the reach of successful competition. To young men desirous of acquiring a thorough, practical business education, there is probably no school in existence that affords equal advantages with the Iron City College.</
